

With ActX, make the dream of Precision Medicine real.

PRACTICAL AND AFFORDABLE GENOMICS FOR EVERYDAY MEDICAL PRACTICE

*Individualize your patient care based on genomics.
Medication Genomic Interactions. Actionable serious genetic risks.
Each patient's genomic analysis is always up to date
Seamless workflow for the busy clinician.*

www.actx.com

Precision Medicine & Your Practice

ActX combines inexpensive patient DNA testing with seamless integration into your Electronic Health Record (EHR). You will have access to constantly updated information based on your patient's genomics, all within your normal workflow.

When writing a prescription, our system will immediately alert you of medication efficacy issues or adverse reactions based on genomics. With the option to see supporting data and references.

View your patient's genomic profile. See actionable serious risks along with management recommendations. With the option to see supporting data and references.

Have you ever had a patient tell you the medication you prescribed did not benefit them?

Based on their genetics, it may have been ineffective.

Have you ever had a patient ask you what cancers they may be at risk for based on their genetics?

Chances are you will.

Is it right for my Practice?

Make your practice stand out by offering advanced care with an enhanced patient experience. You will see patient genomic information in the clinical context, making it easy and quick to make decisions. The ActX Service is designed for the workflow of busy practices.

Is it right for my Patient?

Today's patients have access to more information and technology than ever before. With ActX you can partner with your patients to give them better informed care. Avoid likely ineffective medications and adverse reactions, and help reduce disease risks.

Unlike traditional lab reports, the information you receive will never be out of date.

Every time you access your EHR, you will receive relevant, up-to-date Information based on your patients genomics. No need to decipher lengthy reports. We do the work for you and only alert you to actionable risks.

The Support is On-Going.

Our world-class scientists, university advisors and EHR specialists deliver the actionable, evidence based, information you need in a format you can trust. Our secure and HIPAA compliant technology is data encrypted end-to-end with state of the art authentication.

Getting Started is Easy.

1. Register your practice for ActX real-time genomic services.
2. Authorize your patient to receive an easy-to-use in home saliva collection kit.
3. Access your patient's genomic results.

For more information on how you can become an ActX registered physician and take the next step towards precision medicine, contact us at info@actx.com or call 888-998-2289.